Compute when you need it.

On-demand cloud VMs for Docker Compose projects.

serverku

Create a runtime when needed. Keep configured project data on persistent storage between sessions.

A server with a power control represents disposable compute. The separate base represents storage retained when the runtime is removed.

Owner-selected server + power direction. Logo geometry, colors, typography and usage defaults are new proposals. The headline is proposed brand copy.

One symbol. Two responsibilities.

Compute can come and go. Configured persistent storage can stay.

Primary / two-tone

One-color / same meaning

Micro / larger cutouts

Power control = disposable compute. Separate base = configured storage retained across down / up.

The primary mark uses two colors, but the same structure works in a single ink. The micro version widens the power cutout and replaces two storage details with one slot.

This is original hand-authored vector artwork, not a reconstruction of a raster master. Serverku had no supplied logo image. All colors and final contours await owner review.

A practical developer-tool identity.

Full mark, micro version and outlined lowercase lockups.

Primary

Full server + power mark. Start at 48px.

Micro

Wider cuts and one storage slot. Use at 16-32px.

Reverse

White with transparent power and storage cuts.

serverku

The wordmark uses lowercase serverku to match the CLI. Proposed lettering: Sora Semibold, delivered as vector outlines. Horizontal and stacked lockups are included.

Grounded ink. Active teal.

A new palette proposal; no existing application palette is being replaced.

Deep Teal

#173D42

Compute / lettering / main ink

Active Teal

#0D9488

Storage base / digital accent

White

#FFFFFF

Background / reverse artwork

serverku

Sora Semibold: proposed wordmark. Plus Jakarta Sans Regular/Semibold: guide and supporting copy. Font files and SIL OFL licenses are bundled.

Keep the CLI familiar.

These are branding assets for docs, profiles and future product materials. They do not change terminal output, the user-selected terminal font or provider identities.

Keep the control clear.

Spacing and size defaults are proposals to check at final size.

Clear space: 1/4 of visible mark height

Choose contrast

Primary or deep teal on light surfaces. White on dark. Preserve true transparent cutouts.

Choose the right detail

Primary symbol: start at 48px; micro: 16-32px; horizontal lockup: start at 240px.

Keep the structure intact

Scale uniformly. Preserve the separation between compute and storage. Avoid gradients, shadows, provider logos or live-status recoloring.

Clear space is external to the visible artwork; the default export margins alone do not provide all of it. At 16px use the micro file and check the actual destination. The logo is an identity mark, not a live power control.

Ready for docs and distribution.

Square tiles, transparent symbols and publishing formats.

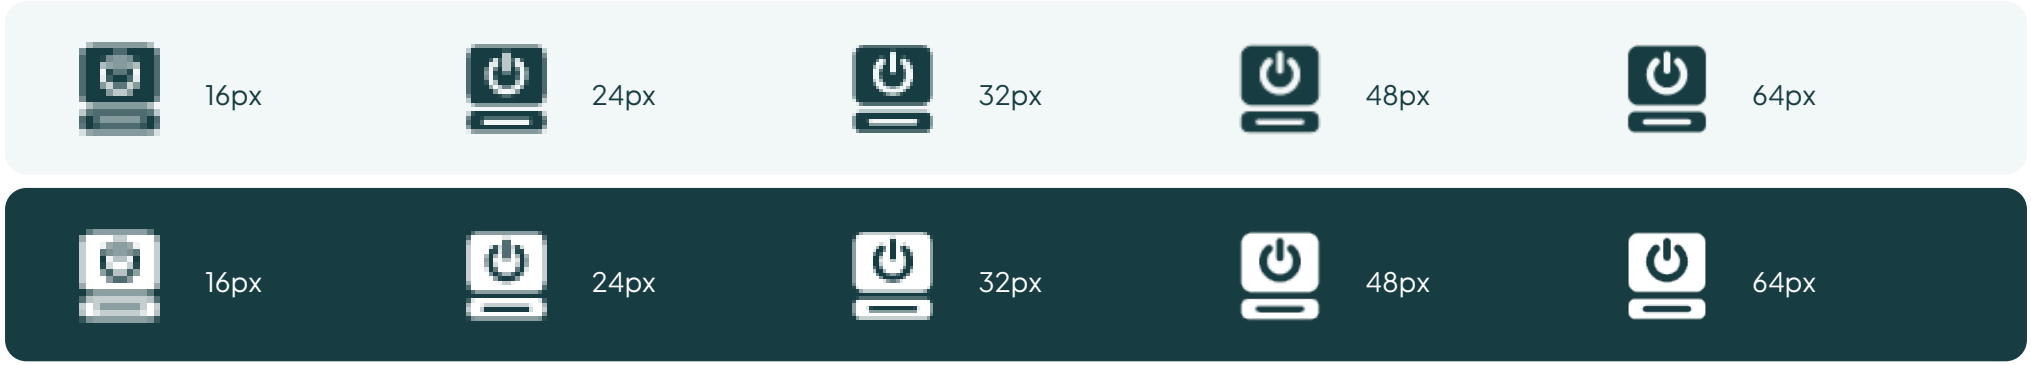

Publishing candidates

PNG tiles from 16 to 1024px; ICO, ICNS, macOS iconset, favicon and Apple touch icon. These assets do not introduce a GUI, browser app or new platform support.

Standalone micro marks are available in ink, white and black at 16, 24, 32, 48 and 64px. Use a high-contrast background and inspect the target rendering.

Be specific about the lifecycle.

Product facts and voice for consistent, accurate brand materials.

Who it is for

Developers running side projects, previews, staging, demos and internal tools that do not need compute all day. Uses existing Docker Compose projects on GCP or DigitalOcean.

up creates a VM and deploys. down removes the VM and keeps configured persistent disks. destroy removes cloud resources, including disks and snapshots.

Only data on configured persistent storage survives down. Retained storage and other provider charges can continue; do not promise zero cost or a fixed savings percentage.

How to talk about it

Use direct, practical language: "Start your Compose project when needed" and "Keep configured data between sessions." Explain which resources remain and distinguish price estimates from bills.

Avoid "serverless," "free when stopped," "your data can never be lost," or claims that down is simply a paused VM. Stay provider-neutral.
